Acromegaly and Gigantism (On), with Unilateral Facial Hypertrophy. Cases with Autopsy. By Charles L. Dana, A.M., M.D. 725
Atropin Elevate the Temperature of the Body (How Does)? By Isaac Ott, M.D. 779
Affections of the Third and Fifth Cranial Nerves (Some). By Charles K. Mills, M.D. 545
Aphasia (The Localizing Value of). By George J. Preston, M D . 659
Astasia-Abasia (A Case of Hysterical); Suing for Damages, with Remarks of the Nature of this Disease and the Hysterical Temperament. By L. Bremer, M.D. 13
Aphasia –Gunshot Wound of the Brain, Causing a Form of, in which the Loss of Nouns was the Striking Feature. By Ernest Laplace, M.D 191
Chorea (Possible Effect of Nitroglycerine on). By Caspar W. Sharples, M.D. 692
Case of Paranoia (A). By Edward N. Flint, M D 567
Cervical Vertebræ (A New Method of Reducing Dislocation of). By G. L. Walton, M.D. 609
Clinical Observations as to the Function of the Right Temporo Sphenoidal Lobe. By Wm. J. Herdman, Ph.B., M.D 612
Contribution to the Study of Insanity and Nephritis (A). By Amelia Gilmore, M D 555
Cerebellar Disease (On the Significance of Optic Neuritis, Blindness Deafness and the Knee-Jerks in). By F. X. Dercum, M.D . . 675
Choreic Movement (The) By Horatio C Wood, M.D 241
Case of Hysterical Astasia Abasia (A), Suing for Damages, with Remarks on the Nature of this Disease and the Hysterical Temperament. By L Bremer, M D. 13
Chronic Chorea (Remarks on the Varieties of), and a Report upon Two Families of the Hereditary Form, with One Autopsy. By William Osler, M D. 97
Care and Handling of the Insane in the Last Twenty Years (An Outline of the Progress in the). By C. Eugene Biggs, A.M., M D 620
Chorea (A Contribution to the Etiology of). By Chas. Henry Brown, M D 513
Duplex Personality. By R Osgood Mason, A.M., M D 593
Detention Hospitals for the Insane. By Matthew D Field, M.D . 599
Dislocation of Cervical Vertebræ (A New Method of Reducing). By G. L Walton, M.D. 609
Etiology of Chorea (A Contribution to the). By Charles Henry Brown, M D. 513
Experimental Study of Simultaneous Stimulations of the Sense of Touch (An). By William O Krohn, Ph.D 169
Epileptic Interval (The). Its Phenomena and their Importance as a Guide to Treatment. By William Browning, M.D. . . . 449–528
Epilepsy (Reflex Disturbances in the Causation of). By William C. Krauss, M.D. 409
Epileptics State Colony for) in New York 261
Electrical Treatment of Certain Phases of Neurasthenia (The). By W F. Robinson, M.D 33
Functional Nervous Disorders (A Study of Some of the Drugs Used in). By Arthur A. Boyer, M.D. 112

Unilateral Facial Hypertrophy (With) Acromegaly and Gigantism. By Chas. L. Dana, M.D. 725
General Paresis (Anmalous cases of). By E. D. Fisher, M. D. . . . 822
Graves' Disease (The Treatment of by Thyroidectomy). By James J. Putnam, M. D. 776
General Paralysis of the Insane (A Study of the Temperature in Twenty-five Cases of). By Frederick Paterson, M.D., and Charles H. Langdon, M.D. 750
Gunshot Wound of the Brain, Causing a Form of Aphasia in which the Loss of Nouns was the Striking Feature. By Ernest Laplace, M.D. 191
Hydrocephalic Cranium of Unusual Size (Note upon a). By E. D. Bondurant, M.D. 318
Heterogeneous Personality (Etiological Significance of). By Smith Baker, M.D 664
Hysterical Astasia-Abasia, Suing for Damages, with Remarks on the Nature of this Disease and the Hysterical Temperament (A Case of). By. L. Bremer, M.D 13
Hemiplegia—Tumor of the Cortex Producing, with Loss of Tactile, Pain and Muscular Sense. By Frank S. Madden, M.D 125
Heat Production (The Relation of the Nervous System to). By Isaac Ott, M.D. 773
Instrument for Measuring the Strength of the Limbs—Pedo-Dynamometer (An). By William C. Krauss, M D. . . . .) . . . 689
Insanity and Nephritis (A Contribution to the Study of). By Amelia Gilmore, M D. 555
Insane (An Outline of the Progress in the Care and Handing of the) in the Last Twenty Years. By C. Eugene Riggs, M.D. . . 620
Insane (Modification of Respiration in the). By Theo. H. Kellogg, M.D. 305
Localizing Value of Aphasia (The). By George J. Preston. M.D. . 659
Measuring the Strength of the Limbs—Pedo-Dynamometer (An Instrument for). By William C. Krauss, M.D. 689
Myxœdema (Observations on a Case of). By William C. Krauss, M.D. 685
Muscular Atrophy—Idiopathic, Complicated by Multiple Neuritis. By J. T. Eskridge 252
Mental Epilepsy. By J. M. Mosher, M D 388
Nitroglycerine on Chorea (Possible Effect of). By Caspar W. Sharples, M.D. 692
Neuritis of the Great Auricular Nerve, Characterized by Recurrent Herpatic Eruptions over the Course of the Nerve. By Theo. Diller, M D. 321
Neurasthenia (The Electrical Treatment of Certain Phases of). By W F. Robinson, M.D. 33
Optic Neuritis—Blindness, Deafness and the Knee-Jerks in Cerebellar Disease (On the Significance of). By F. X Dercum, M.D. 675
Paranoia Appearing in Four Successive Generations (Four Cases of). By Elizabeth C. Mallison, M D 739
Paranoia (A Case of). By Edward M Flint, M D. 567
Pressure Neuritis (Two Severe Cases of). By William C. Krauss, M D. 185
Palio-Myelitis (The Restoration of Muscles which have been Completely Paralyzed from) By Grae me M. Hammond. M.D. . . 27
Relation of the Nervous System to Heat Production (The). By Isaac Ott, M D 773
Respiration in the Insane (Modifications of). By Theo. H. Kellogg, M.D 305
Reflex Disturbances in the Causation of Epilepsy. By William C. Krauss, M.D. 409
Right Temporo Sphenoidal Lobe (Clinical Observations as to the Function of the). By William J. Herdman, Ph.B., M.D. . . . 612

Restoration of Vitality to Muscles which Have Been Completely Paralyzed from Polio-Myelitis (The). By Græme M. Hammond, M.D. 27
Remarks on the Varieties of Chronic Chorea, and a Report upon Two Families of the Hereditary Form, with One Autopsy. By William Osler, M.D. 97
Study of Some of the Drugs Used in Functional Nervous Disorders. By Arthur A. Boyer, M.D. 112
Study of the Temperature in Twenty-five Cases of General Paralysis of the Insane. By Frederick Peterson, M.D., and Charles H. Langdon, M.D. 750
Sense of Touch (An Experimental Study of Simultaneous Stimulations of the). By William O. Krohn, Ph.D. 169
Spinal Hemorrhage, which Results from Traumatic Influence (A Few Clinical Notes on the Usual Situation of), with Report of Four Typical Cases By Thomas H. Manley, M.D. 484
Spinal Cord (Report of Cases of Traumatic Injury to). By Græme M Hammond, M.D. 477
Spinal Cord of a Spring-Halt Horse (A Study of the). By T. L. Bolton, M D. 7
State Colony for Epileptics in New York 261
Significance of Optic Neuritis, Blindness, Deafness and the Knee-Jerks in Cerebellar Disease (On the). By F. X. Dercum, M.D. 675
Spinal Injury (A Case of). By J. C. Wright. M. D. 482
Spinal Surgery, or Operative Proceedures on the Spinal Column for Lesion of the Cord. By A. M. Phelps, M.D. 467
Syphilis of the Nervous System (A Contribution to the Study of). By Ralph L. Parsons, M.D 827
Tetany, with Report of a Case. By J. W. McConnell, M.D. 418
Third and Fifth Cranial Nerves (Some Affections of the). By Charles K. Mills, M D. 545
Traumatic Injury to Spinal Cord (Report of Cases of). By Græme M. Hammond, M.D. 477
Thermotaxis in Birds By Isaac Ott, M.D. 1
Tumor of the Cortex, Producing Hemiplegia, with Loss of Tactile, Pain and Muscular Sense. By Frank S. Madden, M.D. . . . 125
Temperature of the Body, How Does Atropin Elevate (The). By Isaac Ott, M.D. 779
Writers' Cramp (A New Apparatus for the Relief of). By Morton Prince, M.D. 194

CRITICAL DIGEST.

By H. H. DONALDSON, Ph.D.
Contribution to the Surface Anatomy of the Cerebral Hemispheres 39

By WILLIAM O. KROHN, Ph.D.
Psychological Notes—Dermal Smell and Taste Sensations in Paralytics 43
Influence of Various Nerve-Excitants upon the Mental Processes. 45

By JOSEPH COLLINS, M.D.
Acromegaly 48–129

By H. H. DONALDSON.
Notes on the Arrangement of Some Motor Fibres in the Lumbo-Sacral Plexus 323
Scopical Study of Changes Due to Functional Activity in Nerve Cells 326

By JOSEPH COLLINS, M.D.
A Study of the Artafects of the Nervous System 328

By WILLIAM O. KROHN, Ph.D.
Psychological Notes—Hypnotism Among the Insane 330
Neuroses Convulsives et Affaiblissment Intellectuel—Visual Cerebral Centres in the Case of the Dog and the Monkey . . 331
Cerebral Condition in Hypnosis—How Does the Visual Apparatus React to Electrical Stimulation?—Extirpation of Large Portions of the Spinal Cord 332

By H. H. DONALDSON, Ph.D.
The Functions of the Ganglion Cells of the Cervical Spinal Cord 423
On the Brain of the Late George Grote, F.R.S , with Comments and Observations on the Human Brain and its Parts Generally 427
Quain's Anatomy 429
A Physiological, Histological and Clinical Study of the Degeneration and Regeneration in Peripheral Nerve Fibres after Severance of their Connection with the Nerve Centres . . . 430
On the Structure of the Nerve Cells and on the Relation of their Axis Cylinder or Nerve Process to Protoplasmic Processes 432

By H. H. DONALDSON, Ph.D.
On the Changes in the Spinal Cord after Amputation 629
Studies on the Structure of the Cromatin in the Sympathetic Ganglion Cell 630

By WILLIAM O. KROHN, Ph.D.
Psychological Notes—Concerning Some Peculiarities of the Sense of Touch—Influence of Horizontal and Vertical Positions on the Cerebral Functions 633
Insanity Communicated from Man to Animals—Mental Alienation Resulting from Surgical Operations 635
Modifications Observed in the Mental Condition of Some Insane, Affected with Cholera 636
Suggestive Therapeutics, and its Application to Nervous and Mental Maladies, to Surgery, Obstetrics and Pedagogy—On the Discrimination of Groups of Rapid Clicks 637
Experiments on Physiological Memory by Means of the Interference of Associations. 638
On Psychoses After Influenza. 639
Contribution to Affections of the Temporal Lobes 640
The Dream State and the Facts which Accompany it. 641

PERISCOPE

Serous Cysts in the Cerebellum—Contribution to the Prognosis in Traumatic Neurosis—A Case of Athetosis Bilateralis—Metal-Turners' Paralysis—Menstruation Among the Insane—Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis 62
A Case of Acromegaly—Kidney Disease and Insanity—Peculiarities of the Knee-Jerk—Freidreick's Disease—Contributions to the Symptomatology of Exophthalmic Goitre—Suicide—Insanity and Immigration—Traumatic Psychosis—Diagnostic and Prognostic Value of Ideas of Negation—Theraphy of Phenacetine—Chloralamide—New Remedy for Exophthalmic Goitre—Scientific Teetotalism—The Cerebral Commissures in the Marsupiala and Monotremata—Cases Treated by Psycho-Theraphy—A Case of Vertigo in an Hysterical Patient Treated Successfully by Suspension 142

On Eye-Paralysis—Hysterical Amnesia—Ascending Degenerations Resulting from Lesions of the Spinal Cord in Monkeys—The Visual Field in the Insane and its Relation to the Other Senses —Minor Psychic Disturbances in Women— Psychical Activity and Brain Temperature—Treatment of Epilepsy by Convulsives —A Clinical Study, with Autopsy, in a Case of Alcoholic Pseudo Tabes - On Miners' Nystagmus—A Peculiar Form of Nystagmus —A Case of Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis Due to the Bacillus of Eberth 203

The Prognosis of Chronic Alcoholism in the Light of its Pathology —Beri-Beri—Hydatid of the Brain—Erythromelalgy—The Association of Tabes Dorsalis and Diabetes—A Case of Myxœdema, with Psychical Disturbance, Treated with Injections of Thyroid Secretion—Nystagmus—Enlargement of the Hands and Feet Associated with Vaso-Motor Perversions—On Cerebro Spinal Meningitis—Eye-Strain and its Relations to "Cerebral Hyperæmia," etc.—On the Knee-Jerks and Peripheral Neuritis in Diabetes—On Disturbances on Hearing in Cerebro Spinal Meningitis, and Their Anatomical Basis. The Diet in Epilepsy —The Treatment of Myxœdema 274

Dental Reflexes—Relation of General Paresis to Locomotor Ataxia —Changes in the Pia Mater of the Insane—Pathogeny and Treatment of Tetanus—Primary Mental Confusion—Alcoholic Insanity—A Case of Isolated Paralysis of the Serratus Magnus —A Case of Hysteria, Associated with Morphine Habit, Cured by Extirpation of Ovaries—On the Hystology of the Spinal Cord of Man—A Contribution to the Study of the Anastomosis between the Ulner and Median Nerves in the Palm of the Hand— Trepanation of the Vertebra in Spondylitis—Treatment of Sciatica—Certain Organic Extracts—Large Doses of Nitro-Glycerine—The Preventive Treatment of Tetanus—Exalgine in Painful Nervous Affections—Electricity in Sciatic Neuralgia— Sulphate of Duboisin in the Treatment of Insanity and Paralysis Agitans—The Treatment of Diabetes Mellitus by Pancreatic Juice—Trional—The Treatment of Nervous Diseases and General Debility 334

The Pathological Anatomy of Paralysis Agitans and of the Nervous System in Senility—A Case of Hemianæsthesia without Hemiplegia following Injury—On a Peculiar Form of Paræsthesia of the Extremities: Arcroparæsthesia—Cerebral Hemiplegia Following Diphtheria—Muscular Atrophy Following Syphilitic Infection—Angiaphobia—A Case of Syringo-Myelia—A Case of Melancholia; Sudden Illness and Death—Tachycardia of Tubercular Origin—Tumor of the Pituitary Body—Paralysis Agitans and Hysteria - The Syndrome of Benedickt—The Mechanical Treatment of Locomotor Ataxia. 495

The Spinal Lesions of Syphilitic Paraplegia—The Cerebellar Cortex of a Dog—An Investigation of the Structure of Spinal Ganglia. 579

On the Efficacy and Inocuousness of Large Doses of the Bromides in Epilepsy—The Analysis of One Thousand Cases of Primary Sciatica; Treatment of One Hundred Cases by Acupuncture . . 642

Epileptiform Convulsions and Transitory Aphasia Cured by Trephination—Generalized Hysterical Anæthesia—Hypochondria, Resulting from a False Diagnosis of Pseudo Angina Pectoris, and Terminating in Suicide—Hysterical Scoliosis — Hereditary Paramyoclonus Multiplex—Paralysis of the Diaphragm in a Case of Tabes Dorsalis—Aymotrophic Lateral Sclerosis, or Hysterical Amyotrophy—Syringo Myelia and Chronic Poliamyelitis in the Adult of an Ischemic Origin—Was it Leprosy? A Case of Trephination of the Cranium for Frequent and Dangerous Epileptic Attacks of Traumatic Origin—Successful Extirpation of a Cerebral Tumor—Multiple Lesions of the Cerebrum and of the Cerebellum, Accompanied by Epileptiform Attacks—A New Method for the Treatment of Epilepsy—Hydrocephalus Consecutive to Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis—Some Facts Concerning the Brains of Ataxic Patients—Histological Alterations of the Cerebral Cortex in Several Mental Diseases—Diffuse Vascular Meningo-Myelitis in a Case of Progressive Muscular Atrophy—Amok and "Sakit Hati" Among the Malays—Contribution to the Etiology of General Paralysis—Diabetic Coma—Muscular Atrophy Occurring Early in Cases of Hemiplegia—A Study of Losophan 694

Insanity Among Convicts—Hereditary Degenerative Stigmata—A Contribution to the Study of Cerebral Localizations, Derived from a Case of Injury to the Head, with Consecutive Motor Aphasia, Verbal Deafness and Agraphia—Local Anæthesia from Aristol 784

A Case of Diphtheric Hemiplegia—A Case of Mixed Opthalmoplegia—Nocturnal Incontinence of Urine—A Case of Heterotopia of the Gray Substance in Both Hemispheres of the Brain—Thomsen's Disease—Craniotomy for Traumatic Epilepsy. Recovery—A Case of Unilateral Facial Atrophy in a Negro—Temporal Resection of a Piece of the Cranium in a Case of Progressive Amaurosis—The Influence of Suspension on Disturbances of Vision Dependent on Affections of the Spinal Cord—The Importance of Suspension in Some Affections of the Spinal Cord . 834

SOCIETY REPORTS.

NEW YORK NEUROLOGICAL SOCIETY.

Stated Meeting, December 6, 1892: Acute Mania, with the Administration of Enormous Doses of Paraldehyde—A Contribution to the Etiology of Chorea—Tumor of Left Frontal Lobe of Brain, Operation, Recovery—Discussion of the Diagnostic Significance of Tremor 66

Stated Meeting, January 3, 1893: Some Remarks on Oxaluria and Its Relations to Certain Forms of Nervous Diseases—Report of a Case of Cystic Tumor of the Brain Operated upon with Success, Presentation of the Patient—Hemiatrophy of the Tongue, Presentation of Patient 214

Stated Meeting, February 7, 1893: A Subacute Case of Unilateral Bulbar Palsy—A Case of Complete Atrophy of the Tongue, with other Nucleur Symptoms—Modifications of Respiration in the Insane—Report of a Case of Sarcoma of the Cervical Cord; Autopsy—A Case of Sarcoma of the Cord in a Child—Discussion on the Motor Disturbances of the Heart of Nervous Origin 221

Stated Meeting, March 7, 1893: Clonic Spasm of the Muscles of Mastication—A Case of Rythmical Spasm of the Extremities—On Innervation and the Functions of the Sympathetic Nerves—Baredow's Disease 285

Stated Meeting, April 4, 1893: Locomotor Ataxia—Syphilis of the Spinal Cord—The Present Status of Craniectomy 350

Stated Meeting, May 7, 1893: Ataxic Paraplegia—Exhibition of a New Induction Coil for Currents of Quantity and Tension—Some Considerations Concerning Genito—Urinary Neurology—On the Left Regulation of the Beat of the Heart . . . 436

Stated Meeting, June 6, 1893: Presentation of a Case of Convulsive Tic—A Consideration of the Paræsthesic Neurosis—Recent Hypnotics 584

Stated Meeting, October 3, 1893: Memorial of Prof Charcot—A Case of Generalized Paresis Ending in Complete Recovery. . 843
Stated Meeting, November 7, 1893: Demonstration of the New Method of Bevan Lewis for Staining the Cortex—Anomalos Cases of General Paresis 850

PHILADELPHIA NEUROLOGICAL SOCIETY.
Stated Meeting, October 24, 1892: Report of a Case of Large Intra Cranial Tumor (Weighing Five Ounces) Compressing the Left Frontal Lobe—Anthropathy in General Paresis—Tumor of Right Prefrontal Lobe—Secondary Cancer of the Dura Invading the Cerebellum 76
Stated Meeting, November 28, 1892: Chronic Chorea 163
Stated Meeting, December 19, 1893: A Case of Gunshot Wound of the Head, with a Form of Aphasia, in which the Loss of Nouns is the Most Marked Features 231
Stated Meeting, January 23, 1893: The Possibility of the Early Diagnosis of Locomotor Ataxia from the Eye Symptoms. . . 294
Stated Meeting, February 27, 1893: A Clinical and Pathological Study of Shaking Palsy, with a Report of Two Autopsies 359
Stated Meeting, April 24, 1893: A Case of Deformity of Left Foot in a Child Eleven Months of Age—A Case of Local Catalepsy, an Undescribed Nervous Disorder, Probably Hysterical in Nature—Tetany, with Report of a Case—A Case of Hemi-Facial Atrophy—A Section of the Spinal Cord—Note on the Treatment of Myxœdema with Raw Thyroid Gland . . . 442

BROOKLYN NEUROLOGICAL SOCIETY.
Meeting of November 9, 1892: Brain Cysts Connecting with a Ventricle—Three Reports—First, a Case of Traumatic Cephalhydrocele, with Remarks on the Causation of Hydrocephalus—Second, an Operated Case of Brain Cyst Connecting with the Lateral Ventricle—Autopsy—Third, The Identification of Cerebro-Spinal Fluid. 155

AMERICAN NEUROLOGICAL SOCIETY.
Meeting of July 25, 26, 27, 1893: Rheumatism Affecting the Nervous System—Detention Hospitals for the Insane—A New Method of Reducing Dislocation of Cervical Vertebræ—Tumor Involving Angular Gyrus, Occipital and Temporal Lobes 644
Etiological Significance of Heterogenous Personality—Lesion of the Thalamus and Internal Capsule—Tumor of the Optic Thalamus—Infectious Endocarditis with General Septicæmia, Complicated with Multiple Neuritis—Congenital Cerebral Hemiplegia, with Autopsy—Tabes and Syphilis—Spinal Neurosthenia. 716
The Temperature in General Paralysis of the Insane—Thyroidectomy in the Treatment of Graves' Disease—Acromegaly, Gigantism and Facial Hemihypertrophy—Simulation in Traumatic Nervous Diseases—The Microbic Origin of Chorea, with a Case 789
The Anatomical Changes in the Spinal Cord in an Old Case of Infantile Paralysis—Progressive Muscular Atrophy 861

CHICAGO MEDICAL SOCIETY.
Meeting of November 7 1892: A Case of Cerebral Surgery, with Exhibition of Patient 237
